

Utilities

Established in 1990, our utilities division has rapidly evolved into a global leader, supporting a variety of clients on projects ranging from minor works to multi-million pound projects. We provide innovative cost effective solutions in this complex, challenging and dynamic sector. From gas and electricity to water and telecoms, our unique combination of skill and experience puts us in a position that enables us to add value to our clients businesses. We supply both the human resources and technical expertise needed in the timeframe that our clients specify.

We work with clients from initial concept, through commissioning and into service. We've handled major water treatment & waste water projects in a diverse and often challenging range of conditions. With unparalleled knowledge in this market sector we provide solutions for clients which exceed their expectations. Our ability to update and refurbish existing plants brings cost efficiency and quality-approved solutions and is the foundation on which we have developed and nurtured much of our core business in the utilities sector.

We provide complete managed telecoms service solutions for clients at a single location, or with multiple sites. This include technical specialists, engineers and communication co-ordinators through to call-centre staff working on a 24/7 basis. Our managed service contracts come with agreed targets, key performance indicators and an emphasis on value, focus and trust.
